Did you know that through your menarche (your first period to your last) you use over 10,000 disposable sanitary napkins? Multiply this by the female population of the world. Disposable sanitary napkins do not bio degrade and become part of landfills or they are dumped into the oceans. They contaminate underground water, spread diseases and pollute the living environment of millions of organisms, disturbing food chains and harming eco systems and cycles.

Would you use a reusable sanitary napkin?

1. Yes.
2. Maybe.
3. No.

Mostly 1's

You are Gaia, the Earth Goddess, protecting the environment is your top priority. You are one with nature. You will do anything to make the world a better place.

Mostly 2's

You are sensitive towards the environment, and you try to do your bit. Nature appreciates your help.

Mostly 3's

You need to understand that all of what you achieve is immaterial if you can't save the planet. Remember the Earth is your home and until you find property on Mars you must chip in to keep it clean and safe.
